Market watch

Indian rupee appreciated against the dollar as risk sentiment has improved citing the positive developments over the trade war. China said trade negotiators spoke via phone and agreed to stay in touch for further discussions on a phase-one deal. Also attempt to bridge the fiscal gap by divesting some of the public sector undertakings is likely to strengthen the rupee. The pair may also be pressured with the equity index hitting the all-time highs. We expect the currency to trade with mild negative bias within a range of 71.4-71.9

Bullions have witnessed steep corrections in the past five sessions on trade deal optimism. Trade deal hopes were given a recent boost after China announced it was stepping up efforts to police intellectual property (IP) theft with tougher and higher penalties. IP theft has been a constant sticking point in the negotiations. Also pressuring the safe heaven was surge in the dollar index and the global equities. We expect the gold to trade with mild negative bias within a range of 37500-37900.

Stop Loss	66.05

Oil prices were supported by the optimism over the trade war. Also supporting the commodity was hope that the OPEC+ members would lower the production further to support the commodity in its upcoming December meet. The commodity has been facing headwinds with weak economic data across the globe and higher stocks. We expect the commodity to trade sideways with a mild bullish bias for today within a range of 4100-4210.

Lead and Aluminum prices were under pressure inventories soared while demand remained subdued amid a global economic slowdown. We expect the complex to witness some pressure at higher levels.
